

If we wanted to hear from telemarketers with whom we have done business within the last 18 months, we would give them permission to call us. We are perfectly capable of deciding to "opt-in" if we want calls. Please don't take the law's protection away from us. What's the point of a Do Not Call list with a bunch of exemptions?